

Elections Today May Be Preview Of 1950

New York Senate Race Featured

By The Associated Press
Some 5,500,000 New York voters are expected to turn out today (Tuesday) to give their verdict on a bitterly contested senatorial race heralded as a test of President Truman's "fair deal."

The fight between Senator John Foster Dulles, Republican, and former Governor Herbert H. Lehman, Democrat, brought the first major showdown between the administration's domestic policies and GOP charges of "statism."

The issue was clear cut because Lehman upheld and Dulles attacked the "Fair Deal" program. The contest offers a certain preview for the 1950 campaign for control of Congress. Lawmakers confronted with the Truman proposals in next January's congress session will watch the returns for public reaction.

Odds Favor Lehman
The race, highlighting a series of scattered elections over the nation, came to its climax with quoted odds favoring Lehman. Victory was claimed by both sides. The furious pace of the campaign continued to the last, featured by a personal appeal to the voters by President Truman Saturday night.

Republican leaders over the country several weeks ago began slapping the "Statism" label on Mr. Truman's administration and his program of welfare and social legislation. The charged in general that a central government was taking too much control over too many things. Democrats retorted that the Truman policies were meeting vital needs.

The New York winner will finish out the one-year-unexpired term of Robert F. Wagner who resigned last summer. Dulles was appointed to fill the post until this special election.

California, New York House Seats
Aside from the headline battle, there are at stake one House seat each in California and New York; governorships for New Jersey and Virginia, and a number of mayor posts in such strategic cities as New York, Detroit, Boston, Cleveland, Pittsburgh, Scranton, Bridgeport, Louisville, Albany and Buffalo.

Two other issues—poll tax repeal and veterans' bonuses—also come before the voters. Virginia and Texas will vote on proposed constitutional amendments to junk the poll tax, while Pennsylvania and New Jersey have bonus propositions. Tennessee voters will decide whether to hold a convention to discuss changes in the constitution.

In the New York state congressional scrap, Republicans conceded that a Democratic triumph is in the cards. The contest in the heavily Democratic 10th district pits Mrs. Edna F. Kelly, Democrat, against George H. Fankuchen, Republican, and Jules Cohen, liberal. They seek to fill the unexpired term of the late Democrat Rep. Andrew L. Somers.

Victory for Mrs. Kelly, 42-year-old widow of a city court justice, would give Democrats a five to four margin over Republicans in women House members.

Democrats have a substantial edge in registrations in California's fifth district (San Francisco). Paradoxically, the district has been represented by a Republican for about 40 years.

High Box Office Taxes Hit By No. 1 British Movie Man

London, Nov. 7.—(AP)—J. Arthur Rank, Britain's No. 1 movie man, said today high entertainment taxes are bleeding him to death at the box office. He threatened to go out of business in 1950.

He reported the rank group of film production firms and theaters lost $746,747 ($2,090,891 at the present money rate) in the 12 months ended last June 25.

Losses on movie productions—partly offset by theater earnings—totaled $3,350,000 ($9,380,000). Among Rank's films were two big dollar earners—"Hamlet" and "The Red Shoes"—but nearly 40 per cent of the box receipts from the group's 559 theaters, went to the British treasury, Rank said.

In the group's annual statement, he expressed hope that the government will ease the tax by next June. "Unless conditions improve," he said, "we may then have to make the unwelcome decision that production must cease."

British Newsman Hurt Seriously By Arabs

Damascus, Syria, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The Syrian government announced tonight that an armed band critically wounded Michael Sterling, London Times correspondent who served as a British army colonel under Lawrence of Arabia in the first world war.

The government said it was taking all possible measures to catch the assassins who shot Sterling last night during a dinner party in his home. The brief announcement said three armed intruders broke into the house while two others stood guard outside.

Dr. Mounir Sadat, attending physician, said Sterling was "much better" this afternoon, although he still is in a serious condition. Sterling and his cook, badly wounded, were taken to a hospital. Cause of the assault is unknown.

(Dispatches from neighboring Beirut, capital of Lebanon, said there were indications news of the shooting had been delayed by Syrian censorship.)

(The dispatches said Syrian newspapers reported recently that Sterling, a former British intelligence agent in the Middle East, and Brig. John Glubb Pasha, British commander of Hashemite Jordan's Arab Legion, had been active contacting tribal leaders in northern Syria. These reports were unconfirmed, it was said. King Abdullah of Jordan is ambitious to link Syria with his kingdom.)

(Authoritative sources in Beirut were quoted as saying Sterling was shot three times by men posing as friendly tribesmen while the correspondent and his wife were at dinner with several friends. A policeman also was reported wounded.)

Court Upholds Fines On Lewis

TIP COMES TOO LATE, AND COP SAYS SO

St. Paul, Minn., Nov. 7.—(AP)—As policeman Harold Wifall was giving cab driver John Brandt a ticket for speeding, the cab's two-way radio went into action.

"445, slow down, a cop's chasing you," said the radio operator. Wifall picked up the transmitter and acknowledged the tip: "This is 445. We got him."

Orders Pipe Line Set Service Rules For This Winter

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The power commission ordered Panhandle Eastern Pipe Line company today to put into effect before "the 1949-50 heating season" service rules for periods during which the full requirements of customers cannot be met.

The commission said the order "clarified the score of current hearings involving the suspension of Panhandle's proposed natural gas tariff."

The commission said that after it has completed taking testimony on available capacity, customer requirements and allocation plans, it may—before hearing testimony on other issues—issue an interim order setting forth the necessary service.

Panhandle's proposed natural gas tariff was suspended by the commission July 26. A hearing which started Sept. 26 is still going.

Before the hearing started, Panhandle filed a revised rate schedule amending parts of the suspended tariff.

$200,000 Extortion Letter Gets Roth Arrested By FBI

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The FBI tonight announced the arrest of Joseph R. Roth, 40, of Washington, on charges of sending a $200,000 extortion letter to Sherman Fairchild of New York.

Fairchild is chairman of the board of Fairchild Aircraft Corp.

Roth also was accused by the FBI of trying to extort $25,000 from A. J. Eckhardt of Baldwin, Long Island, a Fairchild executive, under pain of death.

Comes At Time When T-H Law Might Be Used

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—For a second time, the supreme court upheld today the contempt-of-court fines which the government in the past has cracked down on walkouts by John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers.

The action came at a time when the White House is weighing the possible use of the same Taft-Hartley Act procedure once again in an attempt to halt the 49-day-old work stoppage in soft coal mines.

The court acted indirectly in upholding $142,000 fines imposed on Lewis and his union as a result of the 1948 walkout. By a 5-3 vote it refused to review a decision by the U. S. circuit court here affirming the fines.

The supreme court action has the effect of letting the circuit court decision stand. The court's brief order gave no explanation of its reasoning.

Those who voted against the UMW's petition for a review were Chief Justice Vinson and Justices Frankfurter, Jackson, Burton and Minton. In favor of a review were Justices Black, Reed and Douglas. Justice Clark took no part.

The court convened October 3 after its summer recess.

The first formal opinions of the term were handed down in eight cases, and a number of others were disposed of in routine orders, including the UMW case.

Unanimity Unusual
Clark and Minton, the court's newest members, each read an opinion at an unusually early stage of their tenure. Also unusual was the degree of unanimity. In the eight formal opinions, the court was unanimous in all but one, where Black noted a dissent.

Among other things, the court: 1. Refused to rule on constitutionality of an injunction which the government obtained to halt a threatened strike by three railroad brotherhoods in 1948. The dispute was settled and the railroads returned from government to private operation, but the unions contested the validity of the injunction.

The local court of appeals dismissed the union case on grounds no live issue was involved. In refusing to review the case, the supreme court presumably followed the same reasoning.

2. Agreed to review two major school segregation cases. One arose in Oklahoma. A negro, G. W. McLaurin, contended that his rights were violated because the University of Oklahoma required him to sit in an anteroom, apart from white students in the same class. A special three-judge federal court, which earlier had ordered the university to admit McLaurin, rejected his new appeal. It said he enjoys educational opportunities equal to those afforded white students.

The six persons were charged with keeping gaming devices and ordered to appear Nov. 9 in Homewood Court.

Says U.S. Economy Made Difficult By Pressure Groups

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Senator Douglas (D-Ill.) says the "greatest difficulty" economy minded senators face in Washington is "the tremendous power exerted by pressure groups."

"Associations of commerce continually seek big appropriations for river and harbor programs, post office buildings, hospitals, and other projects," he told a meeting of the Peoria Advertising and Selling club.

He said veterans groups ask "excessive benefits," welfare groups seek large appropriations, and farmers want high price supports and government purchase of farm crops to maintain prices.

More Steel Plants Seem Near Terms With Union

West Coast Heiress Refuses To Tell If She Gave Funds To Reds

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Wealthy Mrs. Louise Blanstien Bernama today refused to answer a barrage of questions pumped at her by the House un-American activities committee in its investigation of communism.

The red-headed heiress from San Francisco and New York had similarly balked at responding to the committee's inquiry a year ago.

At one point, however, she interrupted today's questioning and angrily told Chairman Wood (D-Ga.): "Mr. Wood, I have never engaged in any espionage activity."

Indignant at what she termed "my continued harassment" by the committee, Mrs. Bernama countered more than two score questions with the stock answer used by many other witnesses hailed before the House committee:

"I refuse to answer on grounds afforded by the fifth amendment."

The constitutional amendment, as interpreted in court decisions, provides that witnesses are entitled to remain silent if their testimony would tend to incriminate them.

The 40-year-old witness, reputed beneficiary of a $500,000 trust fund when her father died in 1929, declined to say whether she ever contributed to communist front organizations.

She gave affirmative answers to two questions. Yes, she said, she had met Paul Robeson, the negro singer who is known for his left-wing sympathies. And yes, she knew Harry Bridges, west coast longshore labor leader.

Chairman Wood cut her off when she attempted to read a statement at the outset of the hearing.

"Just answer the question," Wood said patiently.

Later, the statement was handed to newsmen. It said Mrs. Bernama has never committed a disloyal act, and quoted her as saying:

"A year ago I said I was sure that if I had spent my money on yachts and jewels this committee would have had no fault to find with me and would not have bothered me."

"I say again that if I had pampered myself with luxury living and become an expensive cipher, I would not have been smeared by this committee."

"On the contrary, I might even have been appointed ambassador to some small or medium-sized duchy." The latter was apparently an allusion to President Truman's recent appointment of Mrs. Perle Mesta, Washington's No. 1 party giver, as ambassador to the tiny grand duchy of Luxembourg.

Mrs. Bernama said in her statement she comes from a pioneer California family which went west during the gold rush a century ago.

"The pioneer tradition from which I come demands constant exploration, change and improvement," she said.

"There is much in America today that needs improvement..."

Mediators Spend Time On Coal

Washington, Nov. 7.—(AP) Further steel strike settlements seemed near tonight in a series of negotiations which officials hope will hasten the end of the whole steel-coal shutdown.

Meantime John L. Lewis, meeting in Chicago with his big United Mine Workers policy committee, was reported aiming anew at cracking the operators' front by reaching contractors with segments of the industry. But operators appeared indifferent.

Chances glowed bright for an early peace between the CIO Steelworkers and two big producers—Republic Steel, third largest, and Jones and Laughlin, fourth in output. Inland Steel was to resume talks with the union tomorrow. Wheeling Steel was drafting a contract proposal.

Bethlehem Made Peace
Bethlehem, second largest producer, already has made its peace with the union.

But "Big Steel," U. S. Steel Corp., was still out of the settlement picture.

Lewis suffered two major blows during the day while angling in the midwest for a settlement of his strike with soft coal operators there.

The U. S. supreme court refused to ease the $142,000 fines imposed against the United Mine Workers and their leader as a result of the pension strike of 1948. The Lewis, which included $20,000 against Lewis himself, were imposed by Federal District Justice T. Alan Goldsborough for contempt of a back-to-work order of the court.

The fine was just twice that slapped on Lewis and the union by the same judge in the strike of December of 1946.

Refused to Review Decisions
The court refused to review the lower court decisions, in effect upholding the fines.

The other setback came from Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH), the neutral trustee of the miners' welfare fund who helped Lewis out of the pension strike in 1948.

Bridges and Lewis have split. It was revealed in a letter from Bridges to the trustees demanding that all payments from the once-at welfare fund be halted.

Bridges expressed "concern" over the legal liabilities in keeping up payments for miners' medical and hospital bills in the absence of a contract which would require the operators to finance the fund.

The welfare fund was financed by a 20 cent per ton royalty on coal mined. The payments were provided for in a contract which expired June 30.

Says America Is At Start Of Years Of Opportunity

Chicago, Nov. 8.—(AP)—America appears to be at the start of a "decade of opportunity," Harold Bache, managing partner of Bache and Company, a leading securities and commodities firm, said today.

Bache came here from the firm's New York headquarters to speak at a luncheon commemorating the 30th anniversary of the Bache office in Chicago. Leading LaSalle street financial and commodities men attended the meeting.

"American capital, by providing an adequate flow of funds into equity channels, will not only assure a continued high rate of production and a better standard of living but also will provide the necessary aid to world reconstruction," Bache said.

Bache said his optimistic views on the future were based partly on the likelihood of continued high industrial production. He said that wage levels would be maintained and that markets existed here to absorb the products of industry.

Automobile Buying Swings Toward Low Priced Cars

Detroit, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The postwar years may have shown a growing demand for automobiles but they have brought little change in trends.

Buying generally has begun to swing more heavily toward lower priced cars. Up until about a year ago all price classes were enjoying a demand that exceeded their output.

But few auto makers are in that position today. Even in the lowest priced group they find a lot of sales effort again is needed. And several producers in the medium and medium-high price fields are keeping interested eyes on the lower price bracket.

Recent sales surveys show that once again the low priced models are accounting for more than half of all car sales reported.

The trend probably will become more pronounced in 1950. Sales experts say that in normal times the industry's most profitable market is for lower priced vehicles. It is also true though, that talk about cheaper models and how extra cost items could be stripped from them, always is heard when overall car demand slows down.

Prof. Says College Students' Goals Must Be Changed

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—A college professor said today that, unless the current goals of college students change, there are enough students in college.

Any increase would lead to widespread frustration, he said.

Robert J. Havighurst, professor of education at the University of Chicago, told a city club of Chicago luncheon meeting:

"Any large increase in college attendance would tend to flood the market with more college graduates than could find the work of the kind college graduates want—unless college graduates change their wants."

About 10 per cent of the nation's youth now go to college. President Truman's advisory committee on higher education suggests that 50 per cent should go and 30 per cent should graduate. Havighurst said a 30-15 ratio is more likely to become a fact.

An increase would be desirable and safe, he said, if college students took more vocational courses and aimed to take medium-paid "white collar jobs such as bank clerk, secretary, dentist's assistant, salesman or policeman."

WEATHER

The Norbury Sanatorium, cooperative observer for the U.S. Weather Bureau, yesterday reported the temperatures for Monday as follows: High, 73; low, 36; and at 6 p.m., 57. Forecast for Illinois—Fair and continued mild today. High 62 to 68.

FIRST NATIONAL BANK OF PEORIA IS SOLD

Peoria, Ill., Nov. 7.—(AP)—The old First National Bank building here was sold today to the Maling Brothers Shoe company of Chicago.

Louis Maling, one of the new proprietors, said the building will be remodeled into a modern shoe store. The purchase price was not announced.

Barkley Says Oil Fields Off Coast Belong To All U.S.

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Vice President Barkley told some 5,000 oilmen today that oil reserves under the ocean floor near the nation's coastlines should belong to "all the people" of the United States, not "to any individual state."

The vice-president gave the democratic administration's view on the issue in congress and in U. S. supreme court cases.

His brief, extemporaneous talk was delivered at the 29th annual meeting of the American Petroleum Institute.

Mr. Barkley told the marketing division of the convention that the oil under the nation's continental shelf is important to the United States as a whole, particularly for national defense.

He said he thought that referring to this reserve as "tidelands oil" has caused confusion. Tidelands, he said, are marginal lands which are not covered by the sea when the tide is at full ebb. The oil referred to is under the ocean floor well to the seaward of tidelands.

Rich Paper Dealer Pleads Guilty To Evading US Taxes

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Alvin E. Sandroff, 47, wealthy paper dealer, pleaded guilty today of evading $1,267,512 in income taxes after an individual indictment against him had been withdrawn by the government.

Sandroff pleaded guilty after withdrawing a previous plea of innocent to indictment charging him and two companies which he operates with income tax evasion. Sentence was delayed, pending a motion for pre-sentence investigation.

Sandroff is president of the Thomas Paper Stock company and also of the Rockton Pelt and Paper company. Both firms have plants in Chicago. Awaiting trial are Bert Derriger, 47, bookkeeper for the Thomas firm, and Charles Crane, secretary of the Rockton company.

The first indictment charged Sandroff and the Thomas company with evading $824,305 in taxes from 1942 to 1944. The second charged Sandroff and the Rockton company with evasion of $443,207 in 1944 and 1945. He pleaded innocent to the third charge.

Six-Year-Old Who Shot Brother, 8, Taken To Hospital

Milan, Mich., Nov. 7.—(AP)—Six-year-old Richard Rose, who shot his older brother to death, will be committed to University hospital at Ann Arbor for observation.

Probate Judge Vallie Dussia said today he planned to take this action as quickly as possible. Troopers were sent to pick Richard up at the home of a neighbor.

Richard shot his eight-year-old brother Glen yesterday with a shotgun in a quarrel over some books. He told officers Glen hit him and he "got mad."

Today the father, Glen Rose, Sr., took his son's body to Hudson, Mich., to make arrangements for burial. He has not been questioned fully yet.

When officers arrived here to investigate the shooting, Richard obligingly demonstrated how he had loaded and fired the heavy gun.

SEARS MAIL ORDER SALES DOWN 8.6%

Chicago, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Sears, Roebuck and company reported today mail order and retail sales last month totaled $202,931,230, down 8.6 per cent from the $221,967,544 in October, 1948. For the fiscal nine months to Oct. 31 this year's total was $1,639,128,402, or 6.6 per cent below the $1,754,048,056 in the comparable period a year ago.

West Sees It As Move To Stop Would-Be Titos

Berlin, Nov. 7.—(AP)—Russia installed Soviet military chiefs in two top jobs today in an effort to insure that no new Tito challenges her grip on eastern Europe.

This was the interpretation placed by western military men on the appointments of Marshal Konstantin Rokossovsky of the Soviet army as Polish minister of defense and Gen. Vasily Chuikov as chief of the Soviet control commission for eastern Germany.

Puts Top Men On Front
The moves placed two of Russia's prominent soldiers on the front where Soviet troops rub elbows with western troops and along the direct line of communications with that front.

It was expected here that Rokossovsky would not only head the Polish forces but also retain overall control of Soviet forces in eastern Germany—a job he has held as commander of the Soviet western armies.

Russia's most direct line of communications between the homeland and its 300,000 advance troops in Germany runs through Poland.

Rokossovsky's taking over of the Polish command seeks to guarantee that no Polish Tito takes over Poland and threatens that line of communications. Any revolt against the Kremlin there would be put down ruthlessly and quickly by Rokossovsky, it is assumed. He is a member of the communist party.

Keep Military Rein Tight
The appointment of Chuikov also was interpreted as a step to keep a tight military rein on western Germany despite installation of a puppet communist regime which has been "recognized" by Moscow by an exchange of diplomatic representatives.

The Soviet union has been making much propaganda about the freedom that was to be given the east German government. It was expected, therefore, that Russia might name a civilian to take over the new control commission in place of the old military government—thus following the lead of the United States in its western zone.

PACT COUNTRIES GUARANTEED SECURITY

Paris, Nov. 7.—(AP)—The five Brussels Pact countries signed an agreement today guaranteeing social security payments to workers who move from one country to another.

The five nations—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—specified in the agreement that old age pensions and other welfare schemes, in addition to workers' benefits, would be respected regardless of national boundaries.

RFC LOANS STIR CONTROVERSY;
BANKERS TAKE CAUTIOUS VIEW

The Reconstruction Finance Corporation is probably the businessman's best friend in Washington. And right now it's showing more generosity toward him than at any time since it was set up.

RFC business loans outstanding are at an all-time high of $416,000,000. About 5400 firms owe the agency money, and new applications come in at the rate of some 1200 a month.

But totals like these don't tell the story. It's better told by examples:

A watch company in Massachusetts was forced to close because of financial difficulties. Plagued by unemployment, the city where the plant is located appealed to the RFC. A $6,000,000 loan put the business back in working condition.

An airline needed new planes but couldn't get the money from private lenders. It borrowed $12,000,000 from the RFC.

More recently Henry Kaiser turned to the government for funds for his automobile concern, Kaiser-Frazer Corp. First he got $34,400,000 on a 10-year loan to help him develop a new low-priced car, and then he was granted another $10,000,000 to finance a strengthening of his dealer organization.

Back in the depression thirties, when RFC was born, the Pennsylvania Railroad borrowed more than $50,000,000 to pay the cost of electrifying its New York-Washington lines.

One of the most spectacular loans in RFC history is the $37,000,000 thus far doled out to Lustron Corp., maker of prefabricated steel houses. Launched with government blessing in the hope it would make a big dent in the housing shortage, Lustron has needed repeated financial help. It still is not on its feet.

The RFC is a sort of bank of last resort. Before the agency will give favorable consideration to a loan application, it insists that a business outfit explore completely all possible private sources of funds.

If the RFC does decide to make a loan, its terms usually are more liberal than a private bank's. It often approves long-term grants, which regular bankers dislike. It demands security, however, and many foreclose like any other lender if a loan goes bad.

The RFC's chief jobs seem to be encouraging businessmen with new ideas and bailing out established firms which are in financial straits.

It now has about $800,000,000 left for additional loans and there is some chance it may have to look to Congress for further loan authority if the present lending pace keeps up. Should that need arise, all will not be smooth sailing.

Voices in and out of Congress are certain to protest. Bankers are reluctant to see further expansion of federal loan activity. Some congressmen feel the RFC puts out too much money to shore up businesses that are basically weak and ought to be allowed to fold.

But big and little businessmen are not likely to stand idly by and watch severe limits placed on the lending power of the government unit that for nearly 20 years has been their last desperate hope of assistance.

COMMUNICATION

Editors,
Jacksonville Journal-Courier.

Gentlemen:

I want to express appreciation to you for the editorial which appeared in your paper the evening of November 2nd and the morning of November 3rd, entitled "A Lesson That May Save Lives." I am certain that the opinions expressed in that editorial are held by not only the administrators of those districts providing pupil transportation, but also by the patrons and bus drivers as well.

During the last twelve years that the State Department of Public Instruction has supervised the transportation of pupils in the State of Illinois, there has not been one fatality to a school child while actually riding in a school bus. This is a remarkable record in view of the millions of miles that school buses have been driven during these twelve years.

As stated in the editorial, the Morgan County schools have not only undergone district reorganization, but have been renovated throughout. Many new services have been added. We are proud of the increased advantages given the school children of today. It behooves all of us to be on our guard at all times to be mindful of the safety of the children. We are thankful that the recent accident at Alexander was not serious except in property damage. Let us hope that we will all gain through this experience and that this will be our last accident.

Thanking you again for your fine editorial on a timely subject, I remain

Sincerely yours,
John C. Deem
County Superintendent of Schools

Thirty-seven members were present at the regular meeting of the ladies aid society of Northminster Presbyterian church, at which Mrs. Carl Day presided.

After a hymn, Mrs. Tranbarger read an article entitled "Pieces For Peace," written by Mrs. Sheppard after which the Lord's Prayer was repeated in unison. At the conclusion of the program the members packed seven packages of "Pieces For Peace," for World Community Day.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. George McHenry, chairman, assisted by Mrs. Thomas DeFreitas, Mrs. W. W. Sperry, Mrs. S. J. Blackman, Mrs. Clarence Souza and Miss Adeline Nunes.

EDUCATIONAL FACILITIES
BASIS OF DEMOCRACY

"EDUCATIONAL OPPORTUNITY"

By MARION A. SUMMERS

President of the Jacksonville Board of Education
(Second in a series of articles by Jacksonville men and women in observance of American Education Week, Nov. 6 to 12.)

Equality of opportunity is the fundamental basis of democracy. This cannot exist without educational opportunity. Democracy depends upon the intelligence of the many rather than on the wisdom of a few.

DR. M. A. SUMMERS

Strength within America and intelligent participation in world affairs must rest ultimately upon the education and capacity of our citizens. That is why education for all, regardless of race, residence or economic status, is essential for the preservation and strength of free government.

Our children are facing a tremendously complex world. Serious economic and social problems inside and outside our country require solution. The best education is needed to enable youth to take their places in a 30 per cent increase in enrollment.

In a world of peace and happiness, youth need educational opportunities which will be realistic in helping them find and develop their abilities, and to serve their communities—education to help them keep well, to find a satisfactory vocation or profession, and to accept their civic and moral obligations.

Most children have access to good schools but there still are many who are without school or who have the most meager educational opportunities. Poor schools only serve to preserve illiteracy and to waste human and natural resources. During World War II 659,000 men were rejected because of educational deficiencies. In normal times these deficiencies become obstacles to peace and progress.

At the present time, when educational opportunities ought to be improved, there are critical problems facing the schools. Between 1941 and 1947 the national birthrate increased from 2.5 million to 3.7 million. Last year first grade enrollments increased 10 per cent, this year the estimated increase is 16 per cent. Based upon the children already born, it is estimated that the elementary school enrollment will reach a peak of 27 million in 1957, an increase of 50 per cent. Increased enrollments have caused a shortage of qualified teachers and school rooms, and conditions will become much worse.

In Jacksonville the birthrate has more than kept pace with the national average and two of the elementary schools are now overcrowded. Educational opportunities for elementary children in Jacksonville will be impaired unless classrooms can be provided for more than to enable youth to take their places in a 30 per cent increase in enrollment.

General Solicitation
For Community Fund
To Begin This Week

The Morgan County Community Chest campaign will enter its intensive phase this week when the general solicitation division begins its work with a kick-off meeting at 7 p. m. Wednesday at the Masonic Temple.

The Chest campaign, which will raise $45,000.00 to underwrite the expanding activities of the various participating agencies of the Chest, was noted in many county churches Sunday.

It was pointed out that Morgan county derives great and immeasurable benefits from having such groups as The "Y" and recreation center; Boys Scouts; U.S.O. participation; the Illinois Children's Home Aid and The Salvation Army; actively working in all parts of the county. Support of these agencies and the fine work they are all doing is an opportunity presented to all public-spirited, community-minded citizens.

The special gifts committee, which has already reported over $2,000.00, with only one third of the committee reporting, held its second report meeting at the Danlap Hotel at noon Monday.

Receive Company Gifts
Campaign officials announced that among other gifts received over the week-end, were gifts from Sears, Roebuck and Co. for $385, and from J. C. Penney Co. for $200. These were company gifts and do not include employee gifts which will be solicited later.

The clubs and organizations division, co-chaired by Mary Postlewait and Attorney W. L. Fay, which will not make its initial official report till Wednesday night, has already acknowledged the following gifts: Business and Professional Women's Club, $100.; Kiwanis Club, $100.; W.S.C.S. Brooklyn Church, $10.; American Legion Auxiliary, $10.; and W.S.C.S. R.R. No. 1 Jacksonville, $5.

County groups are organized by townships and workers meetings are being set up for various evenings this week.

DR. EDWARDS'
OLIVE TABLETS

IDEAL OLIVE SOUGHT
Davis, Calif.—There's no such thing as the ideal olive, laments Prof. T. T. Hartman of the University of California College of Agriculture here. But he's working on the idea. Some olives produce good oil, but are too small to pickle. Others make fine pickles but are poor for oil. Some make good pickles and good oil too, but are "alternate producers" that yield a good crop one year and a poor one the next, he explains.

Therefore 27 kinds of Mediterranean olives have been imported and Hartman is grafting them to about 60 California varieties. He seeks a better all-round olive.

EARLY HATCHED CHICKS PAY!

Paul Ames, left, the poultry judge at Saturday's F.F.A. grain and poultry show held at Franklin high school, told the vocational agriculture students that early hatched chicks, plus good care and correct feeding, are necessary if the poultry end of a complete farm is to show a profit.

"By this time of the year pullets should be wide, deep, and laying," he asserted.

He's holding a New Hampshire Red pullet entered in the show by Gene Cochran of Greenfield. She was the blue ribbon winner of her class.

Darrell Strubbe of Franklin, center, holds another blue ribbon pullet, an Austro-White, and Richard VanBebber of Jacksonville high school showed the judge's choice, "the best pullet here today."

She approved the judge's decision by laying a perfectly-shaped, two-ounce egg, something she's been doing nearly every day since August. A Hyline hybrid, she was hatched in March.

She gained additional honors Saturday when eggs laid by her and her sisters captured the blue ribbon.

Ex-FDR Aide Tugwell Mum On New Deal Role As A London Teacher

London, Nov. 7.—(P)—Rexford G. Tugwell, who once helped run the American government, now teaches London students about it.

The former top brain truster under President Franklin Roosevelt is a visiting professor at the London School of Economics, lecturing on American government and political science.

The 58-year-old economist, whose career as a government planner was constantly stormy, lives quietly today in a London hotel.

He came here on invitation of the London school, settling himself and his family so firmly into the British educational routine that his presence passed almost unnoticed. His two sons are enrolled in a typical country school in Devon.

Will Return To Chicago

Tugwell said he expects to teach a year in London, then return next spring to his regular position as professor of political science at the University of Chicago.

It was Tugwell, sometimes called the most dapper of Roosevelt's top advisors, whose "Liberal" ideas went into many projects of the New Deal.

As assistant secretary of Agriculture, he was credited with developing the farm parity price formula which became the key to Roosevelt's famous "triple A" agricultural program in the United States. Many of his plans still are in effect in the American government's program of supporting farm prices.

Puerto Rico Governor

Tugwell's last brain trust post was as governor of Puerto Rico. There his career was just as stormy as it had been in Washington. He retired from public life in 1946 to become a professor at the University of Chicago's midway.

An early proponent of government planning, Tugwell always denied that he was a radical, described himself as "Liberal."

He is not attempting to indoctrinate his London students with his own ideas, he said.

"I'm teaching them about American government and how it functions," he explained.

DIDN'T BELIEVE IT

English art critics ridiculed the work of American landscape painters when the latter exhibited pictures showing the brilliant colors of American autumn. The Britons believed the colors to be pure imagination, since English foliage does not change to brilliant hues in the fall.

Mrs. Marshall Miller Dies Sunday Afternoon

Mrs. J. Marshall Miller of 760 West Douglas avenue, long a prominent and highly esteemed resident of this city, passed away Sunday afternoon at Our Saviour's hospital where she had been a patient for the last five weeks.

The former Edith Catherine Johnston, Mrs. Miller was born in Lynnville on Jan. 28, 1872. Her parents were Rev. and Mrs. Joseph Hancock Johnston, descendants of early pioneers who came to Illinois from Kentucky just as a generation before their fathers had gone to Kentucky from Virginia and Carolina.

MRS. J. MARSHALL MILLER

Mrs. Miller's father was a well-known minister and the traveling president of the Illinois Conference of the Methodist Protestant church. Later he practiced medicine for many years, first in Lynnville and then in Jacksonville.

Educated in Michigan
Mrs. Miller received her early education at Illinois Woman's College and later attended Adrian college at Adrian, Mich., and the University of Michigan at Ann Arbor.

On Aug. 27, 1891, she was united in marriage with J. Marshall Miller of this city. For a short time the couple resided in Los Angeles but soon returned to Jacksonville where Mr. Miller was a well known attorney until the time of his death on March 27, 1924.

Mr. and Mrs. Miller had five children, all of whom survive. They are Mrs. Reuben E. (Ruth) Parks of East St. Louis, Mrs. Joseph D. (Marion) Wilhoit of this city, William J. Miller of Des Moines, Io., Mrs. C. R. (Irene) DuQuoin of Chicago and Mrs. R. H. (Margaret) Caperton of Philadelphia. There are also seven grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Devout Church Member
In her early married life Mrs. Miller became an active member of Westminster Presbyterian church in which she was a devout and sincere worker until her death.

She was an officer and an ardent participant in both local and state organizations of women's clubs and church societies such as the Daughters of the American Revolution, the Illinois Federation of Women's clubs, Tuesday club, Caritas Rebekah lodge, the Eastern Star, the Missionary society and Ladies Aid society of Westminster church, the American Red Cross and the Women's Christian Temperance Union. Local civic and political organizations also shared her interests.

Mrs. Miller was sincere and conscientious in all she undertook and will be remembered as a faithful friend and a devout wife and mother.

Services Wednesday
Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. at Westminster Presbyterian church, with Dr. Arthur P. Ewert officiating, assisted by Dr. William C. Meeker. Interment will be in Diamond Grove cemetery beside the grave of her husband.

The body is at the Cody & Son Memorial Home and will remain there until one hour before the time of service, when it will be removed to the church. Friends may call at the funeral home.

7,000 May Visit Polls In Tuesday's Election

A fairly heavy turnout of voters is expected in Tuesday's county election despite the fact that only one major office, that of commissioner, is at stake.

Between 6,000 and 7,000 voters probably will go to the polls to express their preference for Walter Fearnheyhough, Republican, and Virgil Weghehoff, Democrat, who are candidates for county commissioner. Each man has carried on an active campaign, and several organizations interested in good government have stressed the importance of voting.

Polls in all city and county precincts will open at 6 a.m. and close at 5 p.m.

County Clerk Douglas reported Monday that all details for the election have been completed and that most of the judges and clerks have already obtained their supplies.

More than 20,000 citizens are eligible to vote in Tuesday's election. Should half of that number visit the polls, the election for commissioner would be one of the largest in the history of the county. A comparison with off-year elections in the past shows that about one-third of the electorate shows up to cast their ballots despite a strong campaign by both parties to get out the vote. Justices of the peace and constables will be elected in the city and county, although the space on the ballot is blank in a number of townships.

WEDNESDAY CLASS
Wednesday class will meet Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. F. J. Waddell at her home on Duncan place. The paper will be given by Miss Gertrude Ayers.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Dear Customers:

Since we began to serve you in 1946 our business has grown steadily. We have tried to give you, our customers, the best dairy products at the highest possible standards.

In the past year our business has shown a steady increase and in the past few weeks many new customers have been serviced. Since early last summer we have been looking for a new and larger location, our building cannot handle the present volume of business we are fortunate to have. After long consideration it was decided that new plant facilities must be found.

We are happy to announce that arrangements have been made with Quality Dairy of Springfield to process and bottle our milk. This is not and should not be taken as a merger or sale of business. Our local employees will be kept and we will still get our raw milk from local sources. The Quality Dairy has merely consented to process and bottle our milk which will be delivered to you fresh daily at the same time as always.

The only difference noticed will be that the bottle will have Quality Dairy trademark instead of the familiar Allen Dairy, since our bottles will not fit their machines.

We hope to soon have a new modern and larger plant to serve your ever growing needs... and we ask you at present to continue to use our products under the new arrangement. Thank you for your past business and we hope for a continuation of relations.

Michigan State Hops To Eighth In Poll

By Jack Hand

New York, Nov. 7.—(P)—Notre Dame so completely dominates the top 10 college football ratings that even losing to the Irish moves a club up the ladder.

Michigan State, a shadowy tenth last week, hopped to eighth in the sixth weekly Associated Press run-down in which 141 sports writers and sportscasters participated.

There were no shakeups in the ratings with Notre Dame still way out front on 137 of the 163 first place votes. That amounts to roughly 84 per cent of the ballots, about the same as it has been running for weeks. The Irish took over the lead from Michigan on the second week of the poll, and opened up a wide gap in the third week.

Back of Notre Dame, it's Army, Oklahoma, California and Michigan in that order, just the same as last week. Cornell moved up to sixth and Rice advanced from eighth to seventh.

Minnesota and Virginia are the only newcomers, displacing beaten Baylor, which lost its first game to Texas, 20-0, and Southern Methodist, held to a surprising 27-27 tie by Texas Aggies.

Sidelights On State High School Football

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 7.—(P)—Sidelights on individual performances in last week's Illinois high school football competition:

Halfback Bob Boblett of Rantoul enjoyed a big day against Onarga Military, collecting seven touchdowns and four conversions to lead his team to a 52-6 victory and the championship of the Waukegan conference. Boblett got his first counter on the second scrimmage play of the game.

Don Smith, 185 pound Robinson fullback, is making a serious bid for downstate scoring honors. His total now is 133 points with two games left. Smith picked up 43 tallies in Robinson's 45-0 conquest of Paris. Three other fullbacks also took the spotlight in their schools' victories. One was Dick Simonsen of Elgin, a 235 pounder who sprinted 66 yards for one of his three touchdowns against Freeport. He averaged 10.8 yards in 14 ball carrying assignments as Elgin won 38-12.

Sterling Remains Unbeaten Sterling's Golden Warriors, unbeaten and untied in seven starts, sent Fullback Ray Kenaga across the Thornton (Harvey) goal line four times in a 33-19 triumph. Kenaga lugged the pike 31 times and averaged 5.5 yards.

Fullback Baril Stewart sparked for Evanston in the all important 12-0 victory over New Trier. He scored one touchdown and seldom failed to pick up yardage on his turn to run with the ball.

Halfback Fred Rippel ripped the Canton line and rang up all Galesburg points in the Steak's 24-0 win. Downstate's top pointmaker, Jim Cryder of Morris, pushed his total to 142 with one touchdown but Kan-kakee won 14-7.

Mooschart suffered its first loss in 22 starts despite the heroic efforts of Quarterback Harry Childress, who counted three touchdowns and passed

Athletic Booster Club In Organization Meet At Elks' Club Tonight

The organization meeting of the Jacksonville Athletic Booster club will get underway in the Elks club rooms at 7:30 tonight, Rex Henley, one of the original "boosters," announced Monday.

Henley, in the company of several other sports-minded local men, met with Earl Wax, principal of Feltshans high school, in Springfield last Friday. Wax recently organized a club in Springfield and offered many valuable ideas to the local representatives.

At a meeting last Tuesday evening, when 20 interested observers convened for the opening session,

Chapin Quintet Opens Schedule Against Bluffs

Chapin—Led by six-foot-two-inch Jimmie Bonds, nine lettermen return to Chapin high school basketball coach Paul Blakeman's squad to offer him sound assurance that they are out to better last year's cage mark.

After starting strong last winter, Blakeman, now in his second year at Chapin, saw his Bearcat quintet falter and finally wind up the season with a five win, 17 lost record. Now, with only two cagers lost by graduation—John Alderson and Ted Staake—Blakeman and his boys are forecasting better times.

Chapin is affiliated with the P.M.-B.C. basketball conference. They finished fifth in that league the '48 season.

Issue First Call For Hilltop Cage Talent, Announce Winter Card

Illinois College athletic director and coach Al Miller issued a first call for basketball talent today while still involved in a heated race for high honors in Little Nine football competition.

With one grid tussle remaining on the Blueboy home schedule, Miller will shunt football thoughts aside this evening at 7 o'clock when he greets basketball aspirants who are not doubling up on the turf. As in past years, the Blueboys will work out and play all home games on the I.S.D. hardwood. Cage hopefuls have been asked by Miller to assemble there this evening.

The Blueboys open the season with a lengthy road trip which will carry them to Kentucky Nov. 29 where they'll tangle with Murray State. Enroute home, the Hilltop quintet stops off at Iowa Wesleyan College on Dec. 2, and hurries back to Jacksonville Dec. 3 for its home-opener against McKendree.

By Bob Merris

Dr. Charles Frank, professor of English at Illinois College, called our attention to a neat sidelight in conjunction with Sunday's Fan Breeze article concerning the use of twin football fields to satisfy the big college two-plateau minded coaches. Though, in all sincerity, our idea was "original," Dr. Frank unearthed a commentary which was published in this month's Atlantic Monthly which is related to the same idea.

Realizing Fan Breezes and the Atlantic Monthly are in entirely different spheres so far as literature is concerned, we won't ask our readers by referring them to the latter "almost high brow" slick-paper mag. Ironically enough, an associate professor of English at the University of Indiana came up with the brain-storm that closely paralleled ours.

Here's the pay-off. The Indiana prof was hitting mighty Michigan in his editorial, but we were struck with the wholesale change that was effected when the ball changed sides at the Illinois-Indiana mix Saturday. Indiana pays the prof.

"The death of football" will result from the two-plateau system, fears Samuel Yellen—the prof and Atlantic Monthly scribe. He time-machines his readers a decade hence, Michigan has erected a new stadium and has scheduled Notre Dame on one side and Dartmouth on the other. An underground tunnel connects the two turfs. The prof envisions our angle in that he plans to switch the teams—via the underground—everytime the ball changes hands. Not being a writer—or reader—of the Atlantic Monthly, we failed to approach such heights, instead being content to leave the same teams on the same turfs and only getting together at the game's end to tabulate the scores.

Suppose Michigan is playing a double header some sloppy Saturday afternoon and gets its signals crossed while changing teams through that tunnel. The players can't recognize each other for the mud, Michigan's defensive team gets fouled up and lands in the same stadium with the Wolverine offensive team. The mighty eleven's battle for two periods and finally Michigan beats Michigan!

Say, that might be an angle to get Notre Dame knocked off. We'll bet it wouldn't work on the Irish, though. A little mud would never masquerade a true son of Ireland.

Anyway, we believe that the prof is unduly alarmed. The two-plateau system can't kill football. There'll be football as long as the bands keep marching and singing, the Indian dances between halves, the cheerleaders risk life and limb in their "look no hands" back flips, and the "Block Ts" present their flashy sidshows, because those people that "are born every minute" still enjoy hearing the music and seeing the gorillas perform.

RIVAL RESTAURANTS COOPERATE

Chicago—(P)—George Drake and Marion Isbell run restaurants just around the corner from each other. They are competitors. Yet they recently ran a series of six advertisements—three apiece—in Chicago newspapers in which each paid tribute to the other as a good friend and fine neighbor.

One of Isbell's ads set forth: "In order to get along with the rest of the world we must first learn to get along with one another—with those in our immediate vicinity our neighbors. George and I have learned."

Entertain Top Eleven In Little Nine Loop Saturday Afternoon

It's the Illinois College gridders vs. Augustana's Golden Wave for the football finale of 1949 in Jacksonville next Saturday afternoon. Kick-off time has been set for 2 p.m. on the JHS turf, Blueboy tutor Al Miller announced yesterday.

The Hilltoppers will carry a neat season's mark of four wins, one tie and two defeats into their farewell to home fans contest. Boasting a 2-1-1 league record the Blueboys rank fourth in the Little Nine conference, behind Augustana, Wheaton and Millikin.

The Millermen will be in a position to do a lot of damage in the conference standings if they should come through with a victory against the Golden Wave. The Augies whipped Carthage last week to gain a tie with Wheaton for top spot in the league. Each team has a 4-0 mark in the Little Nine. The Wheatonites must get past Millikin U. Saturday afternoon to insure themselves of first place money or at least a share of it.

Blueboys Can Advance

The local westenders can also do themselves a lot of good in the loop standings by knocking off the highly touted Rock Island bunch. A victory over Augustana while Wheaton was rocking Millikin would put the IC eleven in third place, one notch above their arch rivals from Decatur with whom they battled to a 6-6 deadlock in the season's opener.

In taking a 28-12 setback from Wabash college of Indiana last Saturday, the Millermen dropped up with several injuries. However, the hurts were slight and all the boys should be in top shape for the finale. To perform for home fans since he has restored his sprained knee for two weeks, not even dressing for the Hoosier fracas.

John DeLaPaz, chunky halfback, wrenched a shoulder Saturday, but doctors have assured Miller that he will be in condition to play Saturday. Bill Gross, fullback and Bob Grove, quarterback, saw only limited action last week and expect to be in fine fettle for this home appearance.

Line Is Sound

The first string line Don Longer, Sam Spink, Bill Mathews, Paul Lasey, George Florence, Jim Spink and Ralph Christison remains intact after last week's tough contest. Also several reserve linemen are ready.

Most of the rest of the market also was down, although corn provided an exception. Export demand, smaller than expected receipts of cash corn and belief tomorrow's government crop report will show a decline in production prospects combined to hold corn firm.

Soybeans eased in sympathy with a decline in the cash grain. Arrival of 102 cars was more than most dealers had expected. Rye broke several cents, December and May tumbling to new seasonal lows. Oats eased with other cereals.

Receipts were: wheat 8 cars; corn 480; oats 25; rye none; barley 33; soybeans 102.

M.S.M. League Football Dope

By Bob Duwuer

Now that the race is run, the MSM conference will settle down to a quiet finale this week-end since Virden handed Nokomis the title on a silver plate by edging out the injured riddled Waverly Scoties 7-12 in the only conference action last week. Thus, all games will have little significance other than that belonging to each individual game. St. James could have a little fun on Armistice day when they play host to the champion Nokomis Redskins on the Riverton field. Also on the 11th Virden will tangle with their third rival in a row as they take on Auburn in a game that will give the winner a second place tie with Waverly. Other games find the Girard "we beat Virden" Redbirds shooting for their third win in a row, playing hosts to Carlinville on Thursday night and then Friday afternoon Waverly hopes to snap out of their slump as they travel to Petersburg.

In other games played last week, Auburn fell apart in the last half and I.S.D. came from behind to capture a 26-7 ball game. Auburn had a halftime lead of 7-6. Girard chalked up their second win in a row as they rolled over Petersburg 27-13 behind Norman Klaus' four touchdowns. Klaus is a converted tackle.

Later in the month, coaches in this loop will be picking an all-conference team. There is one boy on the Waverly club that is a cinch to make this dream team; he is Bill Meiers, 140 pound left half. This speedy little Scotie is one of the leading scorers in this area, having racked up 60 points. He is also the loops leading ground gainer. In the eight total games that he has played Bill has carried the ball 931 yards from the line of scrimmage. Meiers has the respect of all opposing coaches and we have personally heard complimentary remarks from Ken Evert of Virden, Bill Lewis of Girard and Wes Tregoning of Nokomis.

CHICAGO LIVESTOCK MARKET REPORT

Chicago, Nov. 7—(P)—Hogs and cattle in general were steady to 50 cents lower today. Some choice to prime steers looked as much as $1.00 and $1.50 a hundred pounds off. In the sheep trade lambs and yearlings were fully 50 cents lower but ewes held steady.

Good and choice barrows and gilts sold from $16.75 to $17.25, the day's peak price, and sows were mostly $13.75 to $16.50 with a few heavies down to around $14.75. An estimated 1,000 hogs were held over unsold at the close.

Two loads of prime steers took the cream of the market at $40.00 and $41.00, and loads grading choice ranged from $35.00 to $38.00. Most good to low-choice fed steers and yearlings took $27.00 to $32.50 and similar heifers $25.50 to $29.50. Good cows ranged downward from $18.50, good bulls from $19.50, and choice vealers from $29.00.

Choice fed woolled western and native lambs topped at $25.00 while choice shorn topped at $23.85. Good and choice yearlings brought $20.00 to $21.00. Good western ewes made $10.25 and below.

Estimated salable receipts included 14,000 hogs, 14,000 cattle, 700 calves and 5,000 sheep.

New York Stock Market

New York, Nov. 7—(P)—The stock market hugged a narrow price route today.

Price changes were mostly in fractions but considerably more in a few special cases. Several utility preferreds stepped ahead of the market while Coca-Cola stocks dropped sharply.

Gains and losses, on the whole, were fairly well mixed. Turnover hit a rate of around 1,100,000 shares for the full session.

Corporate bonds moved narrowly.

Kashmir Guarded Against Reds

Srinagar, Kashmir —(P)—Kashmir's northern and northeastern frontiers are being guarded against Communist infiltration from the Chinese province of Sinkiang, reportedly under the control of the Chinese Communists.

A well-informed source here says a large number of Muslim refugees from Sinkiang already have entered Gilgit, which is held by Pakistan. The source adds that it is difficult to tell whether any Communists are among the refugees.

Early All-Star Returns Rate Routt, Meredosia Six-Man Gridders High

Routt and Meredosia gridders figured predominantly in the voting as the first ballots began rolling in yesterday to select the initial Journal-Courier All-Star six-man football team out of the new 2-C conference.

Twenty ballots were counted which, added to the few that dribbled in late Saturday night, spoke well for the interest that has been aroused among the small-school fans.

While Routt and Meredosia who finished one-two in the conference this year, reigned supreme over every other position, Chanderville's Dick Marcy grabbed an early lead at quarterback, A. J. Spreen, Routt, a quarterback, lagged a few votes behind Marcy.

Sonny Lonergan, Routt fullback, led a slight edge over Meredosia ball carriers, Joe Newman and Tony Simon and Arenzville's Don Wessler.

Dick Casler of Routt and D. Tege-Hinky Henry, Routt, a halfback, were rated high at Junior Reitzel, Chanderville, in the ends by the early returns while Jim Hoon, Chanderville the Indians' S. Walker held the center spot by a two-vote margin over Jim Flynn of Routt.

BOWLING FOR EVERYBODY

Technical Experts: NED DAY and MILTON RAYMER, in cooperation with the National Bowling Council

by The Athletic Institute

NO. 6—THE BASIC SWING

To get the feel of the basic swing stand at the foul line with your left foot slightly forward and the ball hanging at the full extent of your arm (1). Don't bend your elbow or swing it forward. Just let it hang with your arm and shoulder relaxed. Feel the weight of the ball in your shoulder. Your arm should be turned (2) so your thumb points in the direction you want the ball to travel. Now bend your knees slightly (3) and lean your body forward so the ball is well below your knee. Let the ball hang. Don't try to hold it up. In this position your swing delivery is much like the pendulum of a clock (4)—just a free, easy swing without force or strain. The weight of the ball carries it through. So let your arm feel like a clock pendulum, and let the weight of the ball swing it back and forth (5). Use your muscles only to get the ball back in the backswing, and then let it swing forward with its own weight. That's the action of the swing just before delivery. The next installment will discuss the release of the ball.

Why DRY BEER is preferred by most people

It's the clean, cool taste... the absence of any sweetness or clinging after-taste. Try Stag, St. Louis' largest seller, and see!

The CAMEO
By Virginia Teale
Copyright, 1949, NEA SERVICE, INC.

THE STORY: At Hagar Blair's gift shop, the ownership of a valuable antique cameo has been questioned. The cameo is in the possession of Arnold Pfeffer, who says Martin Falter commissioned him to sell it in San Francisco and that it belongs to Martin. Mrs. Nell O'Neill has just appeared in company with a Russian girl. Yakov says he intends to buy it. At this point Stephanie Smith, a quiet young girl who works for Hagar, says "No."

ANDREY YAKOV stared obstinately at Hagar Blair. "It appears, then, that we have three prospective buyers? You, myself and the young lady, Miss—?" he paused, giving Stephanie a look of inquiry.

Stephanie's eyes locked with his as she supplied her name, "Smith."

He bowed. Hagar glanced at Stephanie significantly, then back to Yakov. "You can narrow it to only two prospective buyers, Stephanie and I are partners."

Arnold Pfeffer had been wrapping the silver box in the small square of tapestry. He slipped it into his pocket and was beginning to edge out from behind Hagar, one eye on the front door.

"Just a minute, Arnold!" Nell O'Neill challenged. "Where did you get my cameo?"

Arnold, his hand on the doorknob, stood glaring at her: "Don't yell at me! As far as I know, this is Martin Falter's property. If you must know, he's commissioned me to take it up to San Francisco for him."

"You'd do no such thing. That cameo's mine and I intend to have it," Nell took a step toward Arnold who shrank back against the door. "Give it to me now, and save yourself a lot of trouble."

Hagar walked over and confronted Nell. "Look here, how can you expect him to turn over the piece to you after Falter has told him he owns it? The thing to do is get hold of Falter and settle the right of ownership—then we can start bargaining."

When Nell transferred her attention to Hagar, Arnold yanked open the front door. With escape assured, he turned on the rest:

"I'm sick and tired of this whole mess and I'm not going to get further involved in it. I'm going out right now and hand Martin back his wretched old pin. And then the pack of you can start playing hare-and-hounds with him. I'm through with the whole thing!" He closed the door behind him.

Hagar grinned at Yakov and Nell. "Arnold is the intense, high-strung type."

Nell clenched her fists. "That little rabbit! He probably stole my cameo from Martin."

Yakov assumed an expression of pleased surprise. "Aha! But think how fortunate we are, Nell! This suddenly brings to your mind where you have left your wonderful cameo—in the safe hands of your good friend, Mr. Falter. I shall buy it from you for a generous price."

"What do you call a generous price?" Hagar asked.

Yakov fingered his mustache. "Let us simply say I am prepared to better any offer you can make, Miss Blair."

NOTING that Stephanie had moved over to the window, Hagar whirled on Nell: "Mrs. O'Neill, it looks like you've got yourself a golden goose, doesn't it? And it also looks like Mr. Yakov here has got a tight grip on the pinfeathers. But just for the heck of it, I'll make you an offer."

"How much?"

"First things first. Right now you haven't got the cameo. Little Arnold may have had a temperamental fit and chucked it in the ocean."

Stephanie hurried to Hagar and grasped her arm. "Don't say things like that! Please!"

Hagar gave Stephanie a slow wink.

Yakov's eyes flicked to Nell as he made a show of consulting his watch. "Nell!," he said carelessly, "is it not time to go to the place where Tom and his friend wait for us? Perhaps we can arrange for the four of us to have dinner at my studio."

After they had gone, Hagar walked to the window.

"It doesn't add up," she mumbled against her cupped fingers. "If Yakov wants that cameo bad enough to top any offer I'd make, he must own a remarkable collection. And if he has a collection of that class, why haven't I heard about it? It might be in Russia, of course. But I still ought to have seen some report of it. The only one I know of in that God-forsaken country is the one in the St. Petersburg Hermitage Museum. There is a possibility he might be buying for someone else, but I have a funny hunch that's not it."

SHE shifted around absently, crossed her feet in a fantastic way and leaned precariously on one elbow:

"No, Stephanie," she continued, "I'm convinced he wasn't acting for someone else. Did you notice how excited he was when he first saw the cameo? That sort of 'Hallelujah! The lost is found!' expression? And right after that, when Arnold snatched the cameo away from him, his eyes turned the color of steel and practically skinned the poor little guy."

Stephanie grasped Hagar's arm. "Hagar, please, let's not just talk and talk about it. Let's do something before Yakov gets the cameo! He must not get it, he must not!"

Hagar stared interestedly at the fireworks provided by Stephanie's blue eyes. Today was the first time she'd seen Stephanie's reserve melt away, the first time the girl appeared to have any fire.

"It's important to me, Hagar. Terribly important."

Hagar leaned back against the cabinet. "Suppose you tell me why?"

U. Of I. Art Exhibit Now At Tanner Library

A traveling faculty show of work by the Department of Art at the University of Illinois opened Monday at Illinois college. It included 16 paintings and one piece of sculpture, on view in the second floor reading room of Tanner Library.

A wide range of styles from realism to abstraction and surrealism is shown. There are realistic landscapes by R. E. Hult, Harold Schultz and Nicola Zirolli. Warren F. Doolittle, who spoke on modern American painting at Illinois college last spring, is showing "Breakwater." One of the most impressive paintings in the show, it simplifies waves into diamond-like facets, in quiet tans and blue-greens. Other semi-abstracts are shown by George N. Foster (a compact Marin-like landscape), C. A. Diekmann, and Robert Drummond.

William Kennedy, who will speak at Illinois college Nov. 15, is represented by "Elegy." Roots or driftwood take an animal and human forms in eerie gray lighting. Another, psychologically suggestive painting is Nicholas Britsky's "Reflections" which has a minute, realistic woman's head in green, with a mixture of flat planes in space and tiny red and green figures.

The stone sculpture, "Woman and the Root" by Marvin Martin, shows a crouched figure, with smooth simple rounded forms contrasting to roughly textured hair.

"What is Modern Painting," an exhibition circulated by the Museum of Modern Art in New York, is shown in the first floor halls of Tanner Library at the same time. This explains the many "isms" of modern art in simple terms, using reproductions of paintings by important artists as examples. It is intended to help in interpreting, understanding, and enjoying the paintings in the University of Illinois faculty show.

Everyone is cordially invited to see these two outstanding exhibitions, which will be until Thanksgiving. Most of the paintings are for sale. Library hours are Monday to Friday 8-5; Monday to Thursday 7-10; Saturday 8-12, and Sunday 2-5.

Veterans May Use Insurance Refund To Prepay Policy

The special dividend on National Service life insurance which will be paid starting in January offers veterans an opportunity to further increase the investment in themselves and their dependents.

By paying their insurance premiums on an annual basis or even a half year at a time, a veteran can realize substantial savings in payments and simultaneously remove the necessity of paying each month.

Many veterans are planning to pay up their insurance for a time equal to the amount of the dividend. Those veterans who have permitted their insurance to lapse can have it reinstated by merely paying two months' premiums and taking a physical examination. Those with service-connected disabilities can take a physical examination without having those disabilities counted against them, providing they apply before Dec. 31. They can also select any amount of insurance from $1,000 to $10,000 in multiples of $500.

Service officers of the Illinois Veterans commission can assist veterans in their insurance problems. Information can be secured, too, on the seven plans of insurance offered through the National Service Life Insurance.

In Morgan and Scott county veterans can receive assistance at the IVC office located at 6-7 Morrison block in Jacksonville or at the Court House in Winchester on Wednesdays.
